Baptism of the Lord

“This is my beloved Son, with whom I am well pleased.” (Matthew 3:17)

By: Patricia Mitchell | wau.org

Why did Jesus, the Sinless One, submit himself to John’s baptism of repentance? At his baptism, Jesus accepted his mission as God’s suffering servant on behalf of all sinful men and women.

By submitting humbly to John’s baptism, Jesus gave us a foreshadowing of the “baptism” of his bloody death on the cross, where out of love he gave his life for the remission of our sins (Mark 10:38, 45).

Because Jesus humbled himself so completely, his Father proclaimed how delighted he was in him (Mark1:11). The Holy Spirit, too, was present, anointing Jesus for the work he was about to begin. At his baptism, Jesus became the source of the Spirit for all who would believe in him. The heavens were opened, the Spirit fell, and a new creation was inaugurated.

If we want to experience the power and grace of this new creation in our lives, we must follow Jesus’ example. St. Gregory of Nazianzus, a fourth-century church Father, gives us this advice: “Let us be buried with Christ by baptism, in order to rise with him. Let us go down with him in order to be raised with him. Let us rise with him in order to be glorified with him.” If we want to experience the transformation Gregory wrote about, we need to ask the Holy Spirit to forge the same humility in our hearts that Jesus showed at his baptism.

Jesus is ever ready to renew us in his Spirit and to anoint us for our mission. He wants to make us “light” and “salt” to those around us (Matthew 5:13, 14). He wants his love and truth to shine through us so that others will be touched by his goodness. Ask the Lord to fill you with his Holy Spirit so that you may radiate the joy of the gospel to those around you. As you do, heaven will open for you as well.

Points for Meditation:

• We who have been baptized into Christ have received the same Spirit as Jesus. We too can hear the Father say of us, “This is my beloved.” Imagine yourself in the Jordan River being baptized with Jesus. Ask the Holy Spirit to manifest his power in you in a fresh way.

• Jesus humbled himself by submitting to John’s baptism of repentance. How does humility in our own lives help us to better love and serve the Lord? Is there a specific area in your life where you need to grow in humility?

• Baptized into his life and death, we can take on the character, and even the very heart, of Jesus. Ask the Lord to give you the faith to believe this truth. Then ask him to open your heart and transform you into his image.

Prayer:
Lord, fill me with your Holy Spirit. May I find joy in seeking to please you, just as you found joy in seeking to please your Father.
As block after block of downtown Sacramento has sprung to life, one blighted and abandoned area has remained an embarrassment to city leaders and a dead zone in the heart of the downtown’s robust economy.

Now, J Street, between 10th and 11th streets, appears on the cusp of new life. A Canadian development company is proposing a seven-story mixed-use structure with 153 apartments on upper floors, and new retail space on the ground floor. And city leaders say they are delighted.

Called Anthem Cathedral Square, proposed by Anthem Properties, the project will wrap around onto 11th Street, diagonally opposite from the front of Cathedral of the Blessed Sacrament.

It will replace the four largely empty and outdated buildings that cover more than half of the block. Two of the three buildings that will remain are in use. One holds a longtime tenant, Rodney’s Cigar and Liquor store. That sits next to a pho restaurant and Dads sandwich shop.

Downtown Sacramento City Councilman Steve Hansen, who put public pressure on previous property owners to either build or sell the site, has been working with new owner Anthem Properties on designs for housing on the site, just blocks from the state Capitol and City Hall.

He calls the proposal an “extreme makeover” that should serve as a catalyst for redevelopment of other blighted properties on and near that block. Hansen has been highly critical of former property owners and others who let properties sit empty for years while waiting and hoping to build high-rises that never seem to pencil out in Sacramento’s economy.

“This is my top priority for Anthem,” Hansen said on Friday. Anthem also owns developable property at 15th and S streets. “We need forward progress on this site. Not sugar plum dreams of skyscrapers. We need more apartments. So a mid-rise is really appropriate. The model is perfect for J Street and it is something our market does support.”

Speaking recently to The Sacramento Bee, Anthem executives said the project is just the first of many they hope to build here.

“We believe in Sacramento,” said Riaan Debeer, vice president of development for the Vancouver company. “With what is happening in the downtown, we see this as a long-term relationship with Sacramento, a first step in what we believe will be many more projects.” [...]”

Anthem wants the apartments to be mid-range of market rate so they will be affordable to more people.

Mayor Darrell Steinberg said Anthem’s interest in Sacramento is an example of the city’s rise as an economic draw.

“The confidence is high about what we are doing in Sacramento. One big success begets a lot more successes. Investors are looking at our city and saying this is the place to do business.”

The other side of J Street remains untouched. Hansen said the city is pushing for a project at three empty buildings and an empty lot there.

Prayer can often feel arid, or in any case not always live up to our expectations. We feel let down. That’s when we’re tempted to blame God because, if He really loved us, He would answer our prayers. Or we blame ourselves because, if we really loved God, we ought to be able to get through to Him. If the connection is poor on one end of the line or the other, doesn’t it make more sense just to hang up? So too often, after several attempts, we give up on prayer and concede the battle.

I suggest that the correct verb to use in speaking of prayer is "to be." To pray is to be — to be with. That’s what prayer is all about.

St. Augustine understood this well when, with sadness and bemusement, he asked: “My God, you who are everywhere, how is it that I find you nowhere?”

"Behold, I am with you always, to the close of the age"

The problem is not the absence of Christ or his distance from human history. As St. John Paul II said, "There’s one problem only that exists always and everywhere: the problem of our being present to Christ." What is the point of insisting on the real Presence of Christ (in the Eucharist as well as in the other sacraments, in his Church, in fraternal love, in the service of the poor) if we ourselves are not also present?

When Jesus sent his Apostles out bearing the Good News to all nations and all ages, He emphatically stated: "I am with you always, to the close of the age" (Mt 28:20). But "to be with" takes at least two. This is at the very heart of faith as an experience, a living faith: to be with Him, with He who wished to be with us.

Seek God, not sensations

This has implications. It requires us to properly situate the place and meaning of prayer within a Christian life. Prayer is not a goal but a means. The goal is life with Christ; to be able to say along with St. Paul: “For to me to live is Christ” (Phil 1:21); “So, whether you eat or drink, or whatever you do, do all to the glory of God” (1 Cor 10:31). But, to be always with the Lord, we must from time to time “be” for Him alone, to let go of all else for Him, that He may be at the heart of all.

The quality of our prayer is not measured by the number of lovely thoughts or wonderful sensations we derive from it. But by the fact that, in this world we live in, in this moment of our life in which we find ourselves, we dare to open ourselves up to an encounter with God. An encounter of being with Being. The Bible calls it “face to face.” Some spiritual authors say “heart to heart.” The essential? That He find us waiting. Then we’ll have some chance of finding Him too.

Father Alain Bandelier
The Baptism of the Lord

After Jesus was baptized, he came up from the water and beheld, the heavens were opened for him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove and coming upon him. (Mt 3:16)

FESTIVAL OF TREES & LIGHTS brought in $22,500 over the December 7/8 weekend. Expenses are typically low, which means the parish raised roughly $20,000 for our social services ministries. Many thanks to all who donated items or volunteered their time to make this a success. And thank you to all who attended!

WEEK OF PRAYER FOR CHRISTIAN UNITY

This year, the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity is 99 years old. Ninety-nine years ago, Father Paul Watson, an Anglican priest and co-founder of the Society of the Atonement, introduced a Prayer Octave for Christian Unity that was celebrated for the first time Jan. 18-25, 1908.

THE BIBLE TIMELINE: THE STORY OF SALVATION

BIBLE STUDY BEGINS ON JANUARY 9, 2020

The Bible Timeline is a Catholic Bible study that can help anyone to make sense of the Bible and experience the life-changing power of God’s Word. The study will include a series of twenty-three videos presented by Jeff Cavins. Each video will be preceded by a lively group discussion. We will meet every Thursday from 7pm to 8:30 in the lower level of the Cathedral. After 23 sessions you will receive a certificate of completion. Attendance is free. We will also provide materials. Please join us for a life-changing journey through the Bible! See you there!

LAUDATA SI - Year Five
On Care for Our Common Home

Pope Francis’ Encyclical Laudato Si is a worldwide wake up call to help humanity understand the destruction that man is rendering to the environment and his fellow man. While addressing the environment directly, the document’s scope is broader in many ways as it looks at not only man’s effect on the environment, but also the many philosophical, theological, and cultural causes that threaten the relationships of man to nature and man to each other in various circumstances.

From Sara Peach “Ask Sara” @ Yale Climate Connections Blog

Dear Sara,

My mom was asking me questions about global warming. She doesn’t get it, but I can see she wants to. I was having a hard time boiling it down. She also asked why Michigan winters have been colder than ever if the Earth is heating up (the ol’ climate vs. weather issue) and I found I wasn’t able to give her a succinct answer. Do you have suggestions to very basic articles about both I can send her? – Educate My Mom, Please

Sara:

Your mom wants to learn and sees you as a resource. That’s huge.

Start by sending her NASA’s introduction to climate change (https://climate.nasa.gov/evidence/). You might also look at “EARTH: The Operator’s Manual,” a PBS series hosted by climate scientist Richard Alley. Short segments are available online, so you can pick out one or two that answer her questions.

As for climate and weather, have her watch this video at https://www.youtube.com/embed/e0vj-DimOLw, which explains the difference in a little more than a minute. (There’s even a dog in it. All climate change videos should include dogs.)

And gently push back on your mom’s notion that winters in Michigan are "colder than ever." In fact, Upper Midwest winters are among the fastest-warming in the country. [There is an article in] the New York Times [online]: “Where Are America’s Winters Warming the Most? In Cold Places.”

Ask your mom why she believes (mistakenly) that Michigan winters are growing colder. My guess is that a few recent brutal cold snaps are influencing her perception. On days when Arctic air is blasting outdoor temperatures into frostbite territory, it can be hard to accept that the planet is heating up.

If that’s the case, encourage her to watch this 18-minute TEDx talk that climate scientist Katharine Hayhoe gave at Texas Tech University in 2015 (https://youtu.be/PtrYN9s9oRM). At the time of her talk, it had recently snowed in the area – an unusual weather event in west Texas.

“I have to admit,” Hayhoe jokes, “when I was scraping the snow and ice off my car, I was tempted to think, ‘Where’s global warming now? I’d like a little of that, please.’”

Hayhoe points out that during the period when it snowed in Texas, other parts of the world were unusually hot. “The lesson here is that it isn’t just what we see in front of our own eyes that can tell us whether global warming is real,” she says.

Bautismo del señor

"Este es mi Hijo amado, con quien
Estoy muy complacido "(Mateo 3:17)

Por: Patricia Mitchell | wau.org

¿Por qué Jesús, el Sin pecado, se sometió al bautismo de arrepentimiento de Juan? En su bautismo, Jesús aceptó su misión como el siervo sufriente de Dios en nombre de todos los hombres y mujeres pecadores.

Al someterse humildemente al bautismo de Juan, Jesús nos presagió el "bautismo" de su sangrienta muerte en la cruz, donde por amor dio su vida por la remisión de nuestros pecados (Marcos 10:38, 45).

Debido a que Jesús se humilló tan completamente, su Padre proclamó cuán encantado estaba en él (Marcos 1:11). El Espíritu Santo también estaba presente, ungiendo a Jesús por la obra que estaba a punto de comenzar. En su bautismo, Jesús se convirtió en la fuente del Espíritu para todos los que creyeran en él. Se abrieron los cielos, cayó el Espíritu y se inauguró una nueva creación.

Si queremos experimentar el poder y la gracia de esta nueva creación en nuestras vidas, debemos seguir el ejemplo de Jesús. San Gregorio de Nazianzus, un padre de la iglesia del siglo IV, nos da este consejo: "Seamos sepultados con Cristo por el bautismo, para resucitar con él. Bajemos con él para ser criados con él. Levantemos con él para ser glorificados con él". Si queremos experimentar la transformación sobre la que Gregory escribió, necesitamos pedirle al Espíritu Santo que forje la misma humildad en nuestros corazones que Jesús mostró en su bautismo.

Jesús siempre está listo para renovarnos en su Espíritu y ungirnos para nuestra misión. Él quiere hacernos "luz" y "sal" para los que nos rodean (Mateo 5:13, 14). Él quiere que su amor y su verdad brillen a través de nosotros para que otros sean tocados por su bondad. Pídale al Señor que lo llene de su Espíritu Santo para que pueda irradiar el gozo del evangelio a quienes lo rodean. Al hacerlo, el cielo también se abrirá para ti.

Puntos para la meditación:

- Los que hemos sido bautizados en Cristo hemos recibido el mismo Espíritu que Jesús. Nosotros también podemos escuchar al Padre decir de nosotros: "Este es mi amado". Imagínese en el río Jordán siendo bautizado con Jesús. Pídale al Espíritu Santo que manifieste su poder en usted de una manera fresca.
- Jesús se humilló al someterse al bautismo de arrepentimiento de Juan. ¿Cómo nos ayuda la humildad en nuestras propias vidas a amar y servir mejor al Señor? ¿Hay un área específica en tu vida donde necesitas crecer en humildad?
- Bautizado en su vida y muerte, podemos asumir el carácter, e incluso el corazón, de Jesús. Pídale al Señor que le dé la fe para creer esta verdad. Luego pídale que abra su corazón y lo transforme a su imagen.

Opción:

Señor, iléname de tu Espíritu Santo. ¿Puedo encontrar alegría al tratar de complacerte, así como tú encontraste alegría al tratar de complacer a tu Padre?

MEDITACIÓN EVANGÉLICO

La Navidad termina con la Fiesta en honor del Bautismo del Señor; es otra manifestación de Dios por medio de su Hijo. Ahora el profeta Isaías nos muestra al Servo de Dios en quien se complace: “Miren a mi siervo, a quien sostengo, a mi elegido, en quien tengo mis complacencias. En él he puesto mi espíritu para que haga brillar la justicia sobre las naciones.” No queda más que agradecer el inmenso amor de Dios por nosotros. ¿Cómo no apreciar el ser hijos/hijas de Dios por el bautismo? Desde que nos bautizaron, sea pequeño o grande, Dios espera que al menos estemos seguros de que tenemos un Padre amoroso y compasivo, que se alegra con nosotros. La lectura del Libro de los Hechos de los Apóstoles ayuda a comprender que “Dios no hace distinción de personas, sino que acepta al que... practica la justicia.”

Está Fiesta es similar a Pentecostés, pero, en otra forma de manifestación del Espíritu Santo. Juan, lo explica claramente cuando dice: “Es cierto que yo bautizo con agua, pero ya viene otro más poderoso que yo, a quien no merezco desatarle las correas de sus sandalias. El bautizará con el Espíritu Santo y con fuego.” Bien, ahora cabe la pregunta para reflexión personal: ¿Qué acciones hago para complacer a Dios? ¿Hay fuego en mi corazón de tal manera que arde en buenas obras? Fijémonos en la humildad de Juan Bautista; el reconocimiento que su ministerio tenía que disminuir para que el ministerio de Jesús brillara y se expandiera. ¿Crees tú que los líderes actuales en las parroquias hacen lo mismo que Juan?

VIVIR LA LITURGIA

El bautismo de Jesús es similar en propósito al nuestro. Así como Jesús se distinguió como el Hijo amado en quien Dios está complacido, así mismo, nosotros también. Compartimos ese mismo favor especial con Dios y tenemos una relación íntima con Él. ¿Esta realidad cambia lo que sentimos por nosotros mismos? Ciertamente lo hace. El bautismo nos cambia para siempre y nos llama a los ministerios de misericordia y humildad. Dios nos ha formado a todos en el viento de nuestra madre y nos pide que seamos una luz para todas las personas. Llevamos esta luz con humildad, ya que sabemos quién tiene un derecho sobre nosotros y a quién pertenecemos. Entonces estamos llamados a vivir nuestras vidas imitando a Cristo y nos convertimos en recipientes de misericordia encarnadas. Nuestro mundo necesita ser tocado por la compasión y solo nosotros podemos completar la tarea.

LA CORRESPONSABILIDAD DIARIA

Lecciones de bautizar una rana

Yo solía dirigir una sesión de RICA sobre el bautismo, donde trataba mi juguete de la Rana Rene (Kermit the Frog) de cuándo era niño y pretendía bautizarlo. Era una sesión que me aseguraba especialmente de dirigir cuando teníamos niños preparándose para los sacramentos de Pascua. Una pensive que la Rana Rene (Kermit) se habría vuelto súper santo al haber sido bautizado tantas veces, año tras año. Pero, si hubiera sido real, no habría sido más santo debido a múltiples bautismos de lo que fue después del primer bautismo. No podría haber sido rebautizado. (Sin mencionar, por supuesto, que es una RANA).

Cuando Jesús vino a Juan para bautizarse, transformó el bautismo de arrepentimiento que Juan practicaba en un bautismo de redención. Y aunque estamos llamados al arrepentimiento una y otra vez en nuestra vida, la redención nos llega solo una vez. No podemos volver a bautizarnos en el Jordán o el Mar de Galilea debido a nociones románticas, o entrar a la Iglesia Católica por un segundo bautismo para que podamos comenzar de nuevo. Nuestro bautismo, lo podamos recordar o no, es un trato de una sola vez. Pero es el trato verdadero. Lo sientas o no, estás sellado para siempre y nos llama a los ministerios de misericordia y humildad. ¿Crees que Juan?

Muchos de nosotros damos por hecho ese momento. Sí, puedes haber sido bautizado como un bebé. Pero ha pasado mucho tiempo desde entonces, y puedes trabajar para comprender el impacto que tuvo en tu vida. A veces buscamos un buen momento para comenzar a vivir una forma de vida de corresponsabilidad. Sin embargo, ese tiempo ya pasó, y Dios ha estado esperando. Estamos llamados a reflexionar sobre nuestro bautismo y responder al llamado que ha puesto en nuestras vidas. Podemos responder y ser discípulos, o podemos ser como la Rana Rene (Kermit the Frog), siempre buscando un nuevo comienzo que nunca llega.

I used to lead an RCIA session on baptism, where I would bring in my Kermit the Frog toy from when I was a child and pretend to baptize it. It was a session I especially made sure I led when we had children preparing for Easter sacraments. You would think Kermit would have become super holy having been baptized so many times, year after year. But, if he had been real, he would not have been any holier due to multiple baptisms than he was after the first baptism. He couldn’t be re-baptized. (Not to mention, of course, he is a FROG.)

When Jesus came to John for baptism, he transformed the baptism of repentance that John was practicing into a baptism of redemption. And although we are called to repentance over and over in our life, redemption comes to us only once. We cannot get baptized again in the Jordan or Sea of Galilee because of romantic notions, or come into the Catholic Church by a second baptism so we can start all over. Our baptism, whether we can remember it or not, is a one-time deal. But it is the real deal. Whether you feel it or not, you are sealed for Christ, and the stain of original sin has been washed away.

Too many of us take that moment for granted. Yes, you may have been baptized as an infant. But much time has passed since then, and you can work to understand the impact that it had on your life. We sometimes look for a good time to begin living a stewardship way of life. However, that time already passed, and God has been waiting. We are called to reflect on our baptism and respond to the call it has placed on our lives. We can respond and be disciples, or we can be like Kermit the Frog, always searching for a new start that never comes.
